Integrated

Accessibility Standards Policy for the Implementation of the

Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005

1. PURPOSE/BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 ("AODA") is a provincial statute with the purpose of developing, implementing and enforcing accessibility standards in order to achieve accessibility for persons with disabilities with respect to goods, services, facilities, accommodation, employment, buildings, structures, and premises. Under the AODA, Ontario Regulation 191/11 entitled "Integrated Accessibility Standards" (the "Regulation") came into force on July 1, 2011. The AODA requires all public and private sector organizations to meet the requirements of accessibility standards established by the Regulation. The Regulation establishes accessibility standards specific to information and communications, employment, transportation, and the design of public spaces for public and private sector organizations that provide goods, services or facilities to the public or other third parties.
